Bumps station which expects to Commercial aviation to take its bumps is getting more than its share as 1936 draws to a close

Accidents are hard on public confidences in the safe , of flight. They prove what slways is waiting to be proved that the element of hazard still is operative in the field of Iransportation

Trains buses and ordinary passonger automobiles are similarly subject to the same element. Statisticions can prove with no trouble that the risk in flying is not commensurately greater than that of travel ing on talls or on the highway

It merely happens that flight being now er and apparently more dangerous suffers the heaviest loss of confidence when as has happened this month a series of accidents call attention to the possibilities of danger

This is a handleap which was foreseen in development of commercial aviation. It is a handicap which has been surmounted by thousands of miles of safe flight maired only rarely by disasters. Even now it can be predicted with certainty that no serious impairment to confidence can result from even so tragic a series of accidents as hate exciled temporary doubt during the Aviation has come to stay the certainty of its permanence will cause efforts to in crease its margin of safety to be redoutled

A More Modern Army interesting reading in several countries

It usks for a regular arms of 165 000 men and 14 000 officers. It recommends an in crease in the strength of the national guard to a total of 210 000. It says at least $0,000 reserve officers should be called to active duty for two weeks every two years and asks for funds to provide for training 50 000 youths in citizens military training camps. The e things together with improved equipment are the depart ments requirements for a sound antional

Abroad where a sound national defense demands conscription and standing armics four and five times as large as this coun try considers sufficent it must seen la the United States is more fortunate than It is able to appreciate particularly when pacifists complain about the highly up favorable state of things

Views on Capital Punishment

REFUSAL by Gov Lehman of New York to extend elemency to six minors under sentence of dealt for the murder of a sub-way collector. has directed attention once more to the issue of capital punishment stating his position Gov Lehman said. I can see no difference in the guilt of a man of 20 years and a man of 22 years it think it would be a very great slep backward if by law we did away with capital punishment for those under 21 and I do not think the state is yet ready to take the stop which will completely abolish capital punishment. New York is one of six slates making the don'th penalty man latery for a person consisted of murder. The others are Connecticut Massachusetts. New Mexico New York North Carolina and Vermont.

At the other extreme among the states.

At the other extreme among the states are those with have removed the death pomally from their criminal codes These are Michigan Rhode Island Wisconsin Maine Minnerota North Dakota and South Dakota Kansan formerly was in this cate Dakoto Kansas formerly was in this cate fory but restored death by hanging for mulderers over 18 years of age in 1985

Question of Results

Whether or not capital punishment is a deterient to the clime of mitted can not be actified. A survey of 44 states by the American League to Abolish Capital Panishment set up hemicide rates per 100,000 of population in 43 sintes for the years between 1010 and 1928. This compilation of owed that homicide rates in states which retained the death penalty for murder retained the death penalty for mirror were more than twice as high on an average as the so in states which had abandoned it. The compilation showed also that the states which make the death penalty man datery had higher homicide rates than those states in which capital punishment had been abalished.

Ignoling, estimates of homicides for which condictions were not obtained there were 11 3 persons convicted of murdor in the United States in 183s hast year for which complete figures are available On the basis of convictions however it is impossible to draw find conclusions as to the efficacy of capillal punishment as a crime procentive. There are too mony factors to consider Habits homogeneity of the population and living conditions. It is significant that all states which have abulished capital punishment have preponderantly white pupulations and near which there abulished capital punishment have preponderantly white pupulations a fact which throws statistical analysis out of joint.

There can be and is agreement on one point however. The weakness of capital punishment is the haphagard uncertainty of the infliction. This is the familiar thesis linat certainty of punishment in ther than severity is the best deterrent to crime Lugland with an annual homicide toll of something like 150 with the death penalty lung seal in about 10 per cent of the care protects itself by certainty of apprehension. The American League to Abolish Capital Punishment points out that in the United States which has about 10 000 murders every year 100 men and women are executed as a deterrent frequently because they are inor and friendless.

Praceution is by unloss methods in the United States. Thirteen states use the tope 22 status employ an electric chair and four u e lettial chambers. One state Utah gives the condemned murderer a choice between a filing squad and a noose.

In their current predictions Most Important factor is the world political situation. Warwould upset all calculations. While most of the top authorities believe it will be avoided the very real possibility of it makes predicting extremely hazardous. Second in importance is the threat of labor trouble. The piate giass strike has curtailed production sturply in that industry. The maritine a shipping strike has caused activity at tumber mills to decline. Strikes are being threat read in auto parts industries. And there is a possibility of one isteed before 1937 is over.
